

YEAR 3
WORKING AT THE EXPECTED STANDARD

The traditional Chinese Newyear festival , which started an astonishing 4,000 years ago, is usally at the end of January however sometimes it could be in Febuery. Because it is known as the spring festival it celebrates the growth of plants during this season. As a present, people kindly give lots of toys to their children. These include planes, trains, buses and boats. During this extraordinary time, people put lots of decorations, have feasts and display fireworks. When the celebration finish, the chinies light lanterns, hang them up and hang them up on house to signal the end.

Composition – different sentence
structures used

I can draft my work
into short sections/paragraphs

Handwriting –

I am beginning to join my letters when writing.

VGP –

Conjunctions –
which, however,
because, when

'a' and 'an' used
correctly

Verb tense is accurate – is, could,
celebrates, give,
believe

Present tense

Adverbs to express
time and cause

Punctuation – capital
letters, full stops,
exclamation marks,
commas to mark
clauses.

Getting Ready

When it is at the end, people clean their house bottom to top however you arn't allowed to clean your house or you will clean up your good luke. The chinese belive that if you swap your room twice, a bad spirit will come and clean your room!

In order to celebrate, the chinese host a feast. The feast, which is spent with family, is usually mouth-watring and enormous.